Barbershop Style

Do you like to sing a cappella? Ever tried barbershop style? Come spend the day singing, performing and making new friends. You will work on three songs, for which you will receive the sheet music and an audio file to help you learn the music as best you can before the day of the workshop. Learn the ins and outs of barbershop style a cappella singing. The day will be filled with lots of singing while learning specific barbershop techniques.

This educational workshop will be led by Julie Jeffery. Julie is a member of the immediate past Region 1 quartet champions Boston Accent. Julie is a member of the Region Education Committee and the Regional Management Team. Julie has been singing baritone for many years now and has served in many capacities within chorus leadership. She has worked in public education for many years now and loves her work with the students.

Plan to arrive around 8:30 AM. Warm-ups will begin promptly at 9AM with song review and sectional work to follow. Bring a bag lunch or purchase a sandwich at the hotel from the lunch cart. After lunch, work continues on the songs including the addition of some choreography. You will have both a morning break and an afternoon break. The last 90 minutes of the day the group will be coached by a Sweet Adeline International Faculty member. This coaching session will be open to anyone to watch, learn and enjoy. All of your hard work will then be showcased by performing the songs. And just in case you think there will be no one attending your performance, approximately 500 members of North Atlantic Region 1 Sweet Adelines will be at the same hotel for an educational weekend. You can count on these women to show you their enthusiastic support. Parents, friends and the public are all welcome to come and hear you sing.

For you teachers, we invite you to sing with the students if you wish. There will also be some time for teachers to hear from Julie about the opportunities for young girls singing barbershop style a cappella and how to incorporate this art form into your school programs.

If you are interested, please check out our web site for how to register or for further information. Once you register, you will be provided with further details and of course the music for the workshop. There is no cost to you except for your travel and lunch. Please contact us if you have any questions about the workshop or if we can help you in any way. We promise a day of fun and lots of singing!
